COVER CARE INFORMATION

---

CONGRATULATIONS as the owner of a CEDAR MOUNTAIN THERMOSPA COVER for your hot tub. In order to get the most out of your new cover, please review the following suggestions on proper spa cover use and maintenance.

---

DO NOT:

- Hang, yank on, or lift your cover by the fastener tabs.
- Over chlorinate your spa, as excessive chemicals can decrease the life span of most materials and metals. Remember to remove the cover completely when adding chemicals so splashing chemicals cannot damage the cover.
- Walk, climb, jump, or play on the cover.
- Place objects on cover (pool toys, metal objects, hose, ect.) this may magnify the heat and damage the foam core and will void warranty.
- Swim or play under the cover when on the spa or hot tub.
- If you, for any reason, remove the foam core from the vinyl, do not leave them exposed to direct sunlight.
- Use plastic to cover your spa cover.
- Use Armorall or any preparation using alcohol on this cover. These can burn or otherwise damage the cover.

DO

- Periodically use a protective treatment designated for marine vinyl products. The material used for your cover is treated with UV inhibitors to prevent fading; however, use of a protective treatment as suggested will prolong the life of your cover. We suggest cleaning and conditioning your cover, preserving the life of the vinyl, and adding years of life to your cover.
- Ask your spa dealer about proper water chemistry. It will extend the life of you cover and your spa, and reduce the possibility of mildew.
- Often clean dust and dirt off your cover.
- Make sure all the water and snow is swept off and kept from accumulating or pooling on the cover. Water or snow accumulation may create a weight factor that, after time, may bow the cover.
- If you get a puddle on your cover, unzip the vinyl cover and turn over the foam core. This will probably take care of it.
- Because of exposure to steam, the foam core of your cover has been wrapped and heat-sealed in plastic film to retard absorption of water. However, whenever possible, you should stand you cover on end in a warm exposure to let the cover drain and dry out.
- Use of a floating cover in conjunction with your THERMOSPA COVER. This should be done for the best results and to prolong the life of the cover.
- Keep an eye on your pets, some dogs love to chew on covers.
- Be sure to maintain constant eye contact with children when they are near or could get near a body of water, such as a pool or spa. Children under 5 years of age are at the greatest risk. Adult supervision and education is the only way to prevent accidents.

~~Cedar Mountain Manufacturing suggests you do not order handles on your Thermospa cover. Cedar Mountain Manufacturing does not warranty the handles as they are made of vinyl and are not designed to support the total weight of a spa cover. Handles are to be used for leverage only.~~
Cedar Mountain Manufacturing does not guarantee or warranty the foam core of this spa cover against breakage. The spa cover is not designed to be a safety cover. Manufacturer will not be responsible for "death, damage, or injury" when used as such.
